Rival Unions Hold Meeting
in Attempt to Settle Trouble

GOVERNMENT ACTS Woman Seeks to Effect Conciliation Between Factions

Boston, June 27.—With a meeting today between the two rival telephone unions holding out the only apparent hope of an early settlement of the strike, telephone service throughout many sections of New England was still at a standstill or badly disrupted.

In other sections the company had established nearly normal service. Massachusetts and Rhode Island are still the chief sufferers, while Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire suffered no serious hardship.

Today's meeting was called at the request of Miss Annie Molloy, president of Local 1-A, for the purpose, it is reported, of patching up differences existing between the union and the telephone operators' union, of which Miss Julia O'Connor is international president. Miss Molloy's organization is opposing the strike led by Miss O'Connor.

Washington, June 27.—The government today took a hand in the New England telephone strike when the department of labor ordered Anna Weinstein, a commissioner of conciliation, to Boston to attempt to bring about a settlement.

Miss Weinstein settled the New York clothing workers' strike and has been successful in many recent disputes involving women workers.

John Colpoys, another conciliator, will also be ordered to New England.

GAS COMPANY ASKS COMMISSION FOR 50 CENT SERVICE CHARGE

Xenia consumers of gas furnished by The Ohio Fuel Gas Company will pay 50 cents more a month for the product in the future, if an ordinance requested at a special meeting of the city commission Tuesday afternoon is introduced and passed by the commission.

The proposition presented by J. F. Curry, Columbus, Assistant General Manager of the Ohio Fuel Gas Company, from the Pittsburgh office provides for a 50 cent service charge to be paid by consumers each month, in addition to the regular prevailing rate of 50 cents a thousand with ten per cent off for payment in ten days.

It is said the proposition is being introduced by the company in 31 Ohio cities and villages and is aimed at the gas consumer who uses less than 1,000 feet of gas per month, and whose account it is claimed costs more to handle than the profit on the fuel, according to company officials. The new plan would replace the present minimum charge of 50c. The visiting official was introduced to the commissioners Tuesday by R. W. Irwin, Xenia manager of the Ohio Fuel and Gas Company and he explained the operation of the ordinance. It is understood that the matter will be considered for the first time by the commission at Thursday night's meeting.

POMP OF PRE-WAR DAYS IS EVIDENT

Potsdam, June 27.—Crested with all the pomp and enthusiasm of pre-war days, Field Marshal Von Hindenburg officiated at ceremonies of the historic order of St. John when knighthood was conferred upon new members.

Large crowds cheered Hindenburg when he arrived and drove to the church where the ceremonies were conducted. The field marshal, attired in a uniform glittering with medals, held a gigantic sword in his hand, with which he gave the accolade, this being a smart blow over the shoulders with the sword blade.

The order, which is headed by Prince Fritzel Friedrich, son of the former kaiser, admits only nobles to membership.

Treasury Department Dis-
claims Responsibilities
For Delays

New York, June 27.—Foreign ship owners whose vessels are bringing liquor into American territorial waters must pay the consequences resulting from their action, treasury department officials declared.

Collector Elting of the port of New York was informed by Assistant Secretary Moss, in charge of the customs division of the treasury, that the treasury could not and would not assume any responsibility for delays in sailing of vessels held up for the seizure of liquor stores. Numerous complaints had reached him, Elting reported, from foreign shipping companies that the liquor situation was upsetting their scheduled sailings, causing scores of cancellations of passage and otherwise demoralizing transatlantic traffic right at the height of the summer tourist movement.

Elting asked Moss what he should do about it. Moss replied that he was to do nothing but proceed in an orderly manner to carry out instructions to seize all liquors not exempt under the medicinal classifications and turn the seized liquors over to the prohibition agents for safe-keeping. Moss made it plain to the collector that the ship owners had brought their vessels into American waters with liquor aboard with full knowledge that it was in violation of the American dry laws and could blame no one but themselves for any loss or inconvenience their action may have brought on them.

Kegs and casks of beer aboard the French liner Paris, too bulky for convenient removal to the storage by the customs officials, were tapped and poured overboard. Following the seizure of the beverage supplies brought in under British customs seal by the Baltic and the Berengaria, the port officials went aboard the flagship of the French liner and took away the wine and beer in excess of medicinal supplies.

The Baltic and the Berengaria, the first ships inspected, were deprived of parts of their supplies, the seized liquors being taken to warehouses and receipts given the captains. Both big ships, however, are now on their return voyage, with what is regarded as a "reasonable amount" of wet goods aboard.

Eleven other liners, seven of which are in the harbor, were visited by the port collector's men as rapidly as possible and given the "Sahara treatment." Those in port include the Cedric, the Conteverti, the Tuscania, the Province, the Caronia, the Suffern and the Scandinavian liner Frederick VII, which arrived with its entire stock marked "in seal."

HARDING SPEAKS ON TAXATION IN SALT LAKE CITY

Holds Out No Hope of
Revision in the Near Future

CUT IN EXPENDITURES Chides State, County and Municipal Governments For Extravagance

Salt Lake City, Utah, June 27.—President Harding appears to be getting his re-nomination pretty well pegged down on this western trip.

His attitude on the world court issue and his willingness to submit any reservations which the senate irreconcilables may propose has eliminated the possibility of any further trouble for the president in that direction. The president has gotten back to purely domestic questions and is forging along, building his platform as he goes and letting persons everywhere know just how he stands on important controversial subjects. Nobody, apparently, has any intention of getting in his way.

Senator Will King, Democrat, who was on the reception committee at Ogden, said that in his opinion the president's St. Louis speech has killed all hope the Democrats have had that the United States will join the world court as a preliminary entrance into the league of nations. He declared that the senate Democrats who believe in the Wilson league will make no further effort to have the court proposal ratified.

"The president has scrapped the whole business," Senator King said. "He has thrown the world court to the dogs. The Democrats are through. They can not do anything more, because the kind of court which the president now proposes would not be acceptable to any of the other nations in the court."

When the president reached Ogden he was met by a committee which included Senators Smoot and King, Governor Mabey and other officials. He left the train for a motor trip to Salt Lake, a distance of thirty miles over a scenic highway.

The president's speech at Salt Lake City was on taxation and expenditure. He chided state, county and municipal governments for alleged continued extravagances, pointing out that while the cost of federal government has been gradually falling since 1920, the cost of local government has been increasing. Figures supplied by the census bureau supported this conclusion.

President Harding held out no hope for general revision of taxes at the next session of congress. On the contrary, he supported Senator Smoot's opinion that all federal taxes, including the tax on personal incomes, must be left alone. He advised the people that instead of grumbling about high taxes, they should set about to reduce the cost of communities and stop all extravagances, following the example which he asserted the federal government has set in this direction.

CHIROPRACTORS FINED.

Columbus, June 27.—Judge Perry of municipal court fined six local chiropractors $100 and costs on a charge of practicing medicine without a license. D. H. Gefell would not pay his fine and was taken to jail. All have appealed their cases. Harriet Clements, one of more than a dozen chiropractors who on May 6 were sentenced to the county jail to serve out their fines of $100 and costs each, for refusing to comply with the state medical board's regulations, was released upon a writ of habeas corpus.

STEAMER DAMAGED BY STORM.

Cleveland, June 27.—The entire starboard upper deck of the steamer City of Buffalo was carried away by a tornado. Lookouts who saw the approach of a funnel shaped cloud barely had time to shout the warning before it arrived with a roar. Most of the 265 passengers were in their beds. Bedlam broke loose when the storm hit. The vessel limped into this port with passengers still wearing their life preservers.

GIRL SHERLOCK HOLMES GETS MAN

Cincinnati, June 27.—Persons in the vicinity of Opera place and Vine street yesterday afternoon were astonished to see Miss Lucy Haskett, 24, a guest at a local hotel, fling her arms around a man and call the police.

"He robbed me of my money and jewelry," Miss Haskett cried as she tightly clutched the man's arm. Police were told by the woman that George Cope, 33, Kings Mills, O., had robbed her of a ring and a purse after she had been lured to a vacant house at Fort Mitchell, Ky. Cope was arrested and jailed. Cope is also known as Robert Hartley, Chillicothe, O., and admitted the robbery.

BUYING POWER OF DOLLAR TWO CENTS HIGHER

Officials

Demand for Goods, Large
—Labor of all Kinds
Finds Employment

Washington, June 27.—Because of a general decline in the prices of a large number of commodities, the purchasing power of the American dollar is now two cents more than it was a month ago, the Federal Reserve Board announced today in making public an optimistic review of general business conditions in the United States.

Continued heavy production of basic materials along with full employment and good wages for labor were cited as outstanding features in the favorable industrial situation. Buying strength of American people is now being exerted at maximum, despite the seasonal changes.

Production and shipment of goods by factories continue in heavy volume throughout the United States. Labor of all kinds is finding employment. Some industries in the general demand for labor. Larger demand for goods has resulted in steady increase in the size of payrolls among some classes of industrial establishments. Wage advances were most general in the cotton, steel, meat packing and sugar refining industries.

The board's report showed there is a shortage of farm labor. In agriculture the condition of winter and spring wheat is less favorable than a year ago. The cotton crop is in slightly better condition, owing to more favorable growing conditions in Texas.

Heavy purchasing of goods is indicated by active distribution reported by manufacturers and by the heavy movement of merchandise and freight reported by the railroads.

Loadings of freight on railroads exceed all other records for this season of the year. Both retail and wholesale trade was in larger volume than last month. Wholesalers report larger sales of meat, hardware and shoes. Sales of clothing and dry goods decreased.

A feature of the general prosperity prevailing an increase of $38,000,000 in the volume of money in circulation. The increase is principally in gold and silver certificates. Bank loans in principal cities which have been increasing since early in the year, declined sharply last month.

TECHNICALLY DRY VESSEL HAS 12,000 PINTS OF LIQUOR

French Liner Sails But Passengers are Not to Indulge

New York, June 27.—Technically "bone dry" but actually carrying 12,000 pints of wines and liquors, the French liner Paris sailed today. The 12,000 pints were passed by Dr. E. K. Sprague, head of the United States Public Health Service here as "medicinal supplies."

Eight thousand of the pints of assorted drinks were crew wine and will not find their way to passengers, the captain and purser assured port authorities.

If the passengers get a drink it will be on a signal order of the ship's doctor that they require it for their health's sake. Customs officers and prohibition agents yesterday poured 145 casks and 245 bottles of the Paris beer into the river. This was considered cheaper than hauling and storing it.

The French liners Suffern and Conte Verdi, the Cunarder Caronia and Tuscania of the Anchor line, were to be boarded by officers today and such liquors removed as Dr. Sprague directs.

TAKEN IN DETROIT

Extreme Precautions Used
to Prevent Prisoner
From Escaping

Cleveland, O., June 27.—Immediate trial of John Leonard Whitfield alleged slayer of Patrolman Dennis Griffin, on an indictment charging first degree murder, was promised today by Prosecuting Attorney Edward Stanton.

Detroit, Mich., June 27.—Cleveland detectives were to leave today with John L. Whitfield, 40, arrested here last night for the murder of Dennis Griffin, Cleveland patrolman, on May 11.

With ten Detroit detectives, Charles O. Nevil, Lieutenant of Cleveland detectives, arrested Whitfield at his work, at the yards of the Terres Coal and Lumber Company, where he was employed as a night barn foreman.

Extreme precautions were taken by the arresting officers to prevent Whitfield from duplicating his escape at Madison, Wisconsin, where he pushed his captors from him and disappeared behind a passing street car. The officers, heavily armed, surrounded the coal yards, cutting off Whitfield's chance of escape. As Whitfield left the barn a shotgun was thrust against his ribs and before he could offer resistance he was handcuffed.

At police headquarters, Whitfield freely admitted that he was with Griffin when he was shot, but declared that Griffin shot himself in a struggle.

Detective Griffin was killed while transferring Whitfield from the police station to the county jail in Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., June 27.—The capture in Detroit of John L. Whitfield, alleged slayer of Patrolman Dennis Griffin here, May 11, was the climax of a sensational six weeks man hunt for Whitfield all over North America.

After the shooting of Griffin in Whitfield's auto, as the pair was going to police station following the latter's arrest, Whitfield fled with his 14-year-old sweetheart, Marie Price toward Canada.

Griffin's body was found in a lonely wood near Cleveland buried in a shallow grave. Nearby were the charred remains of his cap.

Whitfield was captured at Madison, Wis. He made a spectacular escape from the police of that city. It is supposed he then went to Chicago and soon after to Detroit where aside from assuming the name of Sam Decario, he made no effort at disguise.

The Price girl was said to be with her mother at Fort Wayne, Ind. Whitfield's deserted wife said today she was sorry her husband had been captured. She asserted that if the police had done their duty the killing would never have occurred. Mrs. Whitfield added:

"Leonard was not a bad man," and that he had treated her well aside from the "Marie Price affair." She had forgiven him for that she said. Whitfield's original arrest was on the charge of stealing spark plugs. When Griffin went to his home, Whitfield submitted to arrest but asked permission to tell his wife goodbye. He is said to have entered her room unaccompanied and obtained a revolver. He volunteered to drive Griffin to police station. A witness told the authorities he heard a shot in the automobile and saw the policeman sink down in the seat as the car sped away.

Cincinnati, June 27.—Car Stein, 23, Abbottsford, Mich., was shot and wounded fatally when attempting to evade arrest in the Big Four railroad yards. Harry Burbink, railroad detective, said the youth jumped from a freight train and failed to heed an order to halt. He died later at a hospital.

TWO MEN RUN DOWN.

Cincinnati, June 27.—George Weig was killed and Everett Utter, 40, injured, probably fatally, when they were struck by an auto while crossing a street here. The autoist was arrested on a charge of reckless driving.

OFFER COMMUNITY PROGRAM THURSDAY AT NEW PLAYGROUND

An elaborate program arranged for the Willow Tree Playground for Thursday evening under the direction of Earl Burgner, general secretary of playgrounds for the Community Recreation Association, will mark a new step in the progress of that park, it is said.

The arousing of community spirit in the neighborhood has resulted in the arrangements for the special program. Under the direction of Miss Eleanor Kiernan, Willow Tree Supervisor, the children of the neighborhood will engage in a folk dance.

Old people of the neighborhood will take part in a community sing, and have prepared a program that includes such novelties as an old fiddlers' contest, and the introduction of the Tar House Quartet from the Hooven and Allison Company besides other novel features. The Tar House quartet is composed of colored employees of the mills who have been practicing together for some time and are promising real colored melody.

Music will be furnished by Albert Jones' Spring High Orchestra and a large crowd is expected to attend to foster the community spirit before exhibited there.

A community sing and other features will mark the entertainment at the Orient Hill Playground Friday night, it is announced by the Community Recreation Association.

A series of novel features has been planned, including a folk dance by children of the neighborhood under the direction of Miss Kathryn Hollen-camp, Orient Hill Supervisor. A community sing will also mark the evening and there will be other entertainment.

Recreation Association officials believe the presence of adults will give them a chance to evidence the influence of the playground on children.

DEMPSEY CONFIDENT

Great Falls, Mont., June 27.—"I've had a harder time getting into condition than I expected," said Jack Dempsey today. "I laid off too long. I'm all right now, however."

Then the heavyweight champion began asking questions, which indicated he is looking beyond the Tom Gibbons fight. He seemed particularly interested in the coming meeting between Luis Angel Firpo and Jess Willard. This interest and the fact that Jack Kearns plans a hurried trip to New York immediately after the fight at Shelby to sign the winner for a Labor day bout shows how seriously the champion and his manager regard the affair with Gibbons.

Dempsey now probably weighs in the neighborhood of 190 pounds. The talk that he will go into the ring weighing under 190 pounds is as foolish as the talk that Gibbons will build up to 180 pounds.

ANOTHER XENIA CASE

Just another report of a case in Xenia. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Xenia with Doan's Kidney Pills.

E. L. Richards, prop. barber shop, 514 W. Second St., Xenia, says: "A short time ago I began using Doan's Kidney Pills to relieve me of the terrible misery in my back. My back was sore and ached constantly and there seemed to be a heavy throbbing through it. Mornings my back and shoulders were so lame and stiff I could hardly get out of bed. When I stooped over I had sharp pains through my back. My kidneys were irregular in action and at night I had to get up several times to pass the kidney secretions, which were scalding and highly colored. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended so I got some. Several boxes relieved me of those sharp pains in my back and my kidneys became normal."

WASHINGTON STAR WILL BE READY FOR REGATTA THURSDAY

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 27.—With the selection of Julian Curtis of Yale, as referee, all details for the intercollegiate regatta to be staged here tomorrow were completed today.

The hope of Washington University to be a real contender in the race row today when physicians attending Dow Walling, stroke of the westerners crew, announced the "husky" would be able to take his place at the head of his eight tomorrow. PUBLIC LINKS GOLF PLAYERS WILL END QUALIFYING ROUNDS

Washington, June 27.—Play in the last half of the 36 hole qualifying round for the public links golf championship of America, which was suspended last night because of darkness, was resumed over the East Potomac park course today.

Twenty one entrants had to finish the 36 hole required for qualification when play began this morning. Raymond McAuliffe, of Buffalo, western New York state champion, with an aggregate score of 153 for the 36 holes, topped the field of 137 starters for medalist honors when play in the elimination round opened. He was closely pressed by Gordon Haw, Seattle, with 155. Frank Delp, Portland; I. L. Thoren, New York, and George Voight, Washington, all with 157, were far third.

Of the 21 who were prevented by darkness from completing the round, seven stand an excellent chance of tying or passing the leader. This was particularly true of John Dawson, whose 73 for the first 18, broke the course record by two strokes. The windy city star had 109 for 27 holes and was only 30 strokes for the six holes on the final nine. He needed to shoot only 12 on the last three, all considered easy holes, to win the medalist award. Henry Decker, Kansas City, and Joseph Murphy, Buffalo, also were within easy halting distance of the leader, McAuliffe.

Baseball fiction writers have yarned at great length about the pinch hitter who stepped into the breach in the final stanza of an overtime session with the horsehide, and smote a circuit clout that won the ball game, the girl and the handsome gold watch given by the Rotters' Club. And no one ever came nearer fulfilling the dreams of the fictionists than did Hargrave with his four-ply crack Tuesday.

Not that it is such a difficult feat to belt a home run at the Chicago yard where the short left field furnishes a target for every home run collecting pastime in the senior circuit. In fact Bubbles gathered in a homer in the same place Monday. But it takes an athlete with a true dramatic sense to crash out a four-bagger with such timely precision as the catcher's effort Tuesday, when the run ended the longest game the Reds have participated in this season in the fourteenth stanza.

The Reds are barnstorming Wednesday and resume hostilities with Pittsburgh Thursday in what will be a series for blood, as the second place medal hangs in the balance. Luque will pitch the opener against the Pirates. The Morantes were crippled further Tuesday when Vic Aldridge spiked Babe Pinelli in the fifth round, which puts Cavanaugh, Donohue and the Babe on the hospital list at a crucial time in the season's history. Despite these serious setbacks, the Reds are in there fighting their heads off to the last ditch and winning ball games which sheer nerve and the spirit of never giving up.

Vincennes Citizen Wants Everyone to Benefit By His Experience.

"If I had the names of all the people who are suffering now as I suffered, I would write each one and tell them how Tanlac completely ended my long-standing rheumatism and stomach trouble," recently declared John A. Williamson, 302 Broadway, Vincennes, Ind.

"What little I forced myself to eat seemed to form a lump and caused awful pains in the pit of my stomach. Rheumatic pains would shoot through my back and shoulders and I could not sleep but an hour or two a night. In fact, I suffered both day and night and got so I could hardly drag myself to and from work."

"Tanlac put me right back on my feet. I'm always hungry now and enjoy my meals. For I don't have a particle of stomach trouble any more, sleep all night long and haven't a trace of rheumatism or any other ailment. Tanlac always gets my highest praise."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Styles BY LENORE

Sudden showers shall have no terrors for the newest parasol, for now it is quite the thing to have it rainproof. But do not mistake it for the rainproof summer umbrella as you know it—almost as large as an ordinary umbrella as a rule, and plain, and usually of purple, or green or dark red. Now when you select a birthday gift for your maiden aunt, she will prefer the newer kind—which is a rainproof but a regulation parasol that may be had in figured silks, combined with plain silk and really quite conservative. Broad stripes of floral designs are also used in some of these rainproof parasols.

One of the novelties of the season are the parasols of Persian cotton prints made to match the printed squares which are sold in yard-and-a-half lengths for blouses.

A pretty white silk parasol has black chenille motifs. And shirring—illustrated in the other parasol shown in the cut—is a favored device in the plain silk parasols which many women prefer.

MUNICIPAL DEBT IN CITY OF XENIA $8.99 PER CAPITA

Every man, woman and child in the city of Xenia is burdened under a municipal debt amounting to $8.99, per capita.

This according to the semi-annual financial report of City Auditor T. H. Zell. The figures are taken from the report of indebtedness sent to Columbus by Mr. Zell, as of July 1, 1923.

In spite of the fact that the entire city as a whole owes $779,457.80, the actual general municipal debt net taken care of by sinking fund, assessments or profits, is only $89,957.80, the figures show. Officials believe these figures are especially good.

The utility debt, represented here only in the municipal water works, is not considered a general debt of the city. This debt has been cut from the original $383,000 to $344,000, where it stands at present. As the debt is being paid off by the profits on the sale of water, this is not considered actually a city debt. When the debt is paid off water rates will be cut so that the department will just pay its own expenses.

The general debt is now down to $237,700, which represents the actual city debt. Against this amount the sinking fund trustees have $147,742.20 leaving only $89,957.80 as an actual municipal debt unearned for. Computing on the basis of an estimated population of 10,000, this shows a per capita debt of $8.99. Xenia is slightly larger than that. The per capita debt is therefore slightly less.

The special assessment debt is not counted as an actual municipal debt, because it is a burden of the individual rather than the city. The special assessment debt is $342,500 now, as represented in Xenia's many paved streets and extensive sewage system. This debt will be paid off by the annual assessments against property owners.

Xenia is fortunate in having an active board of sinking fund trustees, according to City Auditor Zell. State examiners here recently declared the sinking fund board in many cities is inactive and many have made no provision to take care of their general debt. They are being forced into activity by the state department as quickly as possible.

A bond book kept by City Auditor Zell shows that Xenia, through the sinking fund board, owns many bonds of other cities, townships, counties, village and school districts all over Ohio. They are being held at interest rates running from four to six per cent and represent sound, sure and remunerative investments. The interest on these bonds helps to amortize Xenia's own indebtedness as the money in the sinking fund increases.

Counting the money in the sinking fund as good as paid, leaves $89,957.80 general debt, $341,000 utility debt and $342,500 assessment debt, or a total of $776,457.80 in obligations. Considering that the utility debt is being paid off entirely by water sales and the assessment debt by the property owners themselves, Xenia City is unusually well off, city officials say.

FREE CLINIC FOR CHILDREN OF COUNTY TO BE HELD IN XENIA THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

Owing to the lack of floor space and the warm weather, the tonsillectomy clinic, to be conducted under the auspices of the Greene County Chapter of the Red Cross, at the American Legion rooms, will be held on Thursday and Friday mornings. Fifteen children will be operated on Thursday morning, the overflow to be taken care of by the doctors and nurses Friday.

The office of the Legion rooms, which have been donated by the post for the clinic, will be converted into the operating room, the dining room to hold the cots for the patients, following the operations. The club room will be used as a waiting room.

Local and county physicians and surgeons have been generous in offering their services gratis, as well as the nurses. A committee of women will assist in arranging the details of the rooms, in preparation for the work. The committee will consist of Mrs. J. W. Stevens, Mrs. Ernest Schmidt, and Mrs. J. H. Whitmer, who will make the rooms ready for the patients. Another committee from the county will consist of Mrs. William Marshall, of Cedarville; Mrs. C. N. Smith, New Jasper; Miss Mildred Smith, Yellow Springs; and Miss Beatrice Shepley, Ross Township. Other local women will also be present during the clinic.

Out-of-town physicians who will aid with the clinic will be Dr. R. L. Haines, Paintersville; Drs. A. N. Vandemon and W. M. Hartinger, Spring Valley and Dr. L. L. Taylor, Yellow Springs.

Reservations have been made for patients from Fairfield, Yellow Springs, Goes Station, Cedarville, Jamestown, New Jasper, Spring Valley, Ross Township, Beavercreek Township, Caesar Creek Township and Xenia.

The first of the Red Cross tonsillectomy clinics was held last October, when 31 patients were operated on in two days. The Red Cross has the cooperation of the members of the Greene County Medical Board and other medical professionals in the city, at that time. The clinic was the result of the examination of 1,301 children in the county, by Miss Helen Myers, Red Cross nurse during 1922.

MARKED MEN.

We wish for the twenty-seven wartime prisoners freed by the President's clemency such joy as they may find in their freedom. They are coming back into a world that has not forgotten the war. They must walk among millions of Americans who have not forgotten and will never forget.

Their limited freedom of commuted sentence is due to the incessant propaganda and the steady pressure of such organizations as the American Civil Liberties Union and the Joint Amnesty Committee. These have prevailed upon the President.

These twenty-seven men did not take up arms against the United States. They did not commit acts of violence or so-called "overt acts." They took no lives. It is not certain that they destroyed property or incited strikes.

Their tongues were their weapons. They were of the war's soap-boxers. They did what they could with words, in a stern and dangerous hour, to weaken the American will to make war. Their activities were far, far back of the fighting lines and behind the backs of the men who carried rifles. The designation "political prisoners," so insistently applied to them by their friends, has never seemed quite fair. These men were something more than that.

Now they are to go forth in a limited freedom. To the day of their death they will be marked men. Always the world that fought and worked in the days of danger will walk a little way around them. Fingers will point them out. Whispers will follow and run before them.

They are of those who failed the Nation in the day of its need. As other men came forward offering their lives they skulked and mounted fine words and made phrases. They could not realize that in failing their Nation they were failing themselves.

For conscience sake? Surely in many cases. Many of them were not and are not vicious men. Most of them were misled souls, tortured by their beliefs, who scorned to move with the war-meant herd of their fellowmen. In the great upheaval of the war there were many, many twisted, racked brains and wandering minds traveling in crazy circles. Others there were that moved with a chill malevolence. In such a time the outlaw and anti-social streaks were churned to the surface.

On hundreds of such individuals the heavy hand of wartime Government fell. On December 1, 1921, 197 persons were undergoing imprisonment, were out on parole or on bond. That Christmas time President Harding commuted twenty-four of these sentences. Virtually all of those who did not commit some act of violence or actively hinder by strike, sabotage or otherwise the conduct of the war have been released. Some fifty of the anti-war offenders who did commit such "overt acts" must serve their sentences.

In the cases of the twenty-seven newly freed, mercy has tempered justice. They are free in a freedom that binds them in invisible chains. Freedom is theirs so long as they faithfully abide by and in no way violate any and all statutes of the Government that freed them. They have their freedom, but the respect of millions of their brethren they will not and cannot have.

PARTNERS.

Long after the airy persiflage and spiced retort of Lady Astor to her audiences are forgotten her service in behalf of co-operation in the social order will be remembered. She has a true, just vision of men and women toiling as natural partners to remodel the world a little nearer to the heart's desire of those who take very seriously the problems of the race.

Equal rights and an equal status before the law are the graven of her contention. Women, having the vote and the veto therewith, are challenged by a new responsibility. This is not local to a single land—it is international. Protection for children, the proper care of mothers, right conditions of factory labor, the proper handling of indigence and dependence—these are questions whose solution is vital to all parts of both hemispheres.

They cannot be settled by parliamentary debate, by any specious argument. They call for "legislation in terms of men, women and children rather than in terms of theories." Prejudices and impending animosities must be dispelled. There must be tact and diplomacy; but above all, there must be the partnership of those who regard the end as far more consequential than the authorship of a plan or the personal credit of putting it through. Men and women must learn to work together in public as in social life, since it rests with them to say what the future of their race shall be.

COMMUNITY SPIRIT.

Life to each of us consists mainly of what we make it. We can cast the soft rays of sunshine and happiness over our existence, or we can fill our lives with the shadows of greed and avarice, and insatiable longing for those things which we may not possess.

Xenia is our town—the place where most of our lives will be spent—where memory is dear to us.

Shall we seek to cast out what there is of spirit of greed and suspicion, and ungenerous rivalry among men?

Shall we supplant it with one of kindness, of tolerance, and of good will toward each other?

Shall we make honorable thrift the watchword of our community?

It is the ideal existence, and is possible to any community where the people have the will and the courage to follow the path of honor and gentleness wherever it may lead.

WILLIAM WRIGLEY'S PHILOSOPHY.

While riding on a train recently, Wm. Wrigley, the famous gum manufacturer, was approached by a man who addressed him: "Pardon me, Mr. Wrigley, but do you know you're wasting a lot of money?"

Mr. Wrigley, always anxious to learn anything about his business, asked in return, "How?"

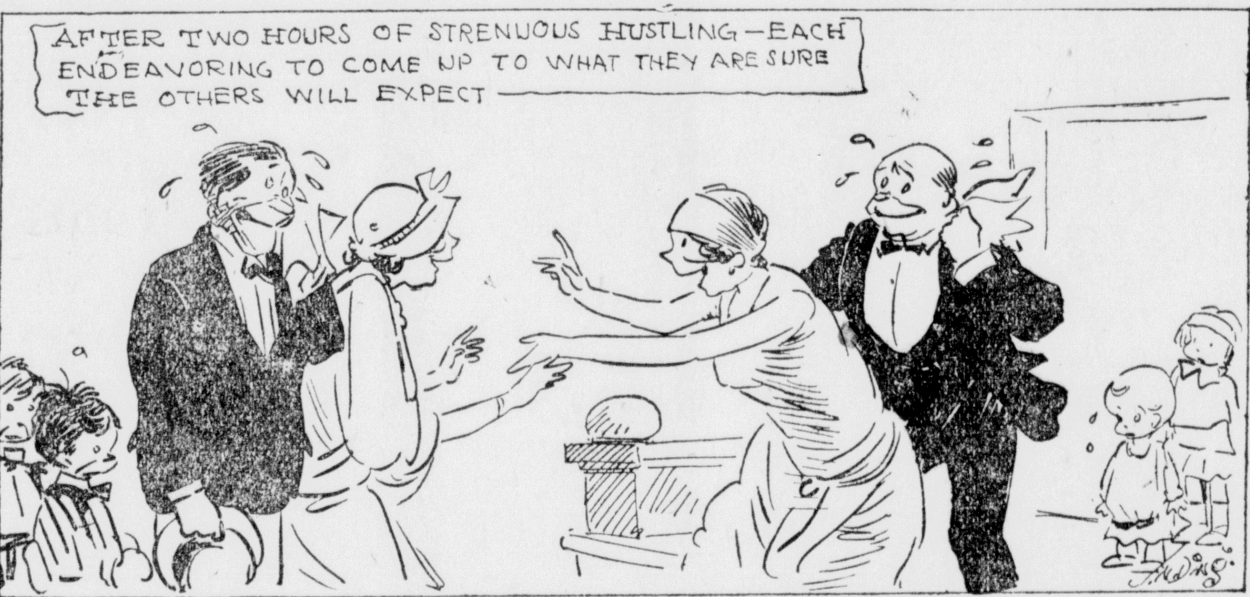

"Why, in advertising!" the man replied. "Your product is so well known you don't need to advertise!"

"My good man," Mr. Wrigley answered him, "do you know what would happen if we were to cut the engine off from this train?"

"The train would coast along a while and stop, I suppose."

"Exactly," replied Mr. Wrigley, "and that's just what my business would do if I cut off advertising. Advertising is the engine that furnishes the motive power for my business."

THE SPIRIT

No matter who you do, you put something of yourself into it. There are those who put all that they are in whatever they do—and then there are those who merely divide their interests and give and work by half—or less.

It is the spirit in which you do things that counts more than anything else. Not only for the one you may work for, but for yourself.

We can never leave ourselves. Not for a second. Neglect one part of your work and you neglect yourself. You dull and deaden the vital spark within you that has to do with the enlarging of your soul.

It is the living spirit within us that urges us on—that tells us the way to better things, that urges us to rise when we fall and to look up instead of down.

You may make a very bad blunder—but if your spirit was working in the right direction, that blunder can be easily passed by. It's our intentions that the Great Judge asks about when we are called to His court.

It is inspiring to meet some people. They seem to have a wonderful inward spirit that is working every minute in their lives. No matter under what condition you meet them, that same even spirit is there.

We can all have a happy spirit if we will. It is largely a matter of proper viewpoint and the right consideration of others. Influence is a wonderful force. And it is the fine, beautiful spirit that you carry around with you that gives you influence.

MANICURE HELPS

A young girl with a very small allowance of spending money has asked me what she will need in the way of manicure articles and how ed in warm, soapy water before manicuring.

S. B. K.—The excessive growth of beard at 17 need give no concern. Such trouble is only temporary, and much they will cost. As she has so little to spend, I've suggested that she put all her money into quality of material, rather than beauty, and to keep her set in a flat box in her dressing table drawer, where it won't show.

The most important thing to buy is a long, flexible steel file. She cannot find a really good one under 75 cents, perhaps even $1. A dollar seems a lot for one not very pretty toilet implement, but it will last many years. This is for shaping the nails; to clean them, a cheap, pointed file will do—ten cents or less. For five cents she can get a packet of orange wood sticks in different sizes for cleaning or for pushing back the cuticle. For ten cents, several packets of emery boards, for smoothing the nails after they have been filed and shaped.

Next come the manicure scissors. Before the war I bought a wonderful pair for 35 cents. I still have them. But today I could not find a similar quality under $1.50. The buffer is better if large and a little concave, such a one would cost 75 cents, or perhaps 50 cents in wood. But a little ten cent one can be made to do. So, for between $2 and $3 you can own serviceable, if not slightly, manicure implements. I'm not counting in polishing powders (a ten cent box or cake will last a year), nor creams, for cold cream will do as well as special cuticle creams. Lemon juice is the best and the cheapest bleach, and cuticle removers are not necessary, if the finger tips are soaked the necessity for daily shaving will soon just become one of your habits. Jay—You should never keep the hair oiled. Oil attracts dirt and it also clogs the hair shafts. Use the hot oil on scalp the night before shampooing, or, if the hair is too dry, massage a trifle into the scalp

If gas could be bought on a mile-per-gallon basis, how differently the motorist would select his fuel. "Give me 80 miles of gas." Sounds funny but that's practically what it amounts to. You pay so much for so much gas and expect a certain mileage in return.

If you will measure the mileage cost per gallon on Columbus Gasoline you'll become a steady Columbus customer. Thousands of motorists use only pure Columbus Gasoline. Try it for more mileage, better pickup, more power, smoother running.

FATE OF DEMPSEY

GIBBONS BATTLE IS UNKNOWN QUANTITY

Great Falls, Mont., June 27.—The fate of the Dempsey-Gibbons battle lies in the hands of Jack Kearns. And Kearns is in the mood to act as its executioner.

Unless Kearns relents—unless the manager of the world's champ is willing to send his man into conflict with Tom Gibbons, for a gross $210,000, then it's 50 to 15, the fight must be called off. For it seems almost humanly impossible for the promoters to sell enough tickets between now and July 4 to raise nearly $200,000 in cash which will be needed by that date.

The situation is desperate. If the fight was a certainty, then the public might step in and buy tickets to the tune of $200,000 by that date. But affairs are so badly messed, that ticket sales have almost ceased. No one wants to invest $50 in a fight ticket and not merely be deprived of seeing the fight but also run the risk of total loss of the $50.

Never was anything so badly gummed up in fight history as this Shelby affair. Concretely this is the plight:

Between now and next Monday the promoters must raise money for the following payments, $50,000 to be returned to those in Shelby and Great Falls who loan that sum to make up the second payment for Dempsey's end; $100,000 perhaps a few thousands more, to pay the arena costs; $25,000 for incidental expenses; $100,000 to pay for Dempsey's third payment.

Towards this sum, the promoters have perhaps $25,000.

If they could borrow $100,000 for Kearns they could go through with the fight, because then, with the fair assured, ticket sales would take care of loan repayment, arena building costs and outside expense. But there's no one willing to make the loan. And that's because the men behind it seem to have "hooked" everything they can "hook"—and $100,000 loans are not made through kindness in these days.

BOYS CONDUCTED ON AUTO TOUR OF INTERESTING POINTS

H. E. Schmidt Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schmidt of West Third Street, and Philip Santmyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Santmyer of West Third Street, are among a party of boys enjoying a personally conducted auto tour to the East under the auspices of the Beacon Institute.

The boys left Monday by auto truck from Dayton carrying camp equipment which they pitch nightly along the way. They will visit Cleveland, traveling along the lake shore to Buffalo and Niagara Falls. After visiting both the American and Canadian sides, they go to Rochester to visit the Eastman Kodak factory and from there to Syracuse to visit the Franklin Motor Company's factory.

From Syracuse the party goes to Albany and from there to Boston, making excursions out of that city. They will visit Harvard College at Cambridge, visit Duxbury, the home of Miles Standish and Plymouth where the Pilgrims landed. They will enjoy sea bathing at Revere Beach and inspect modern ships at Charleston Navy Yard. They will visit New London, Connecticut and Yale College and the Winchester Arms factory at New Haven.

From Boston the party will motor to West Point, visit Sing Sing prison and then see the sights of New York City. From New York the party goes to Orange, N. J., stopping at the Edison laboratories, thence to Trenton to see the Trenton Pottery and to Princeton University. They will camp at Camden and visit Philadelphia and Valley Forge and will go from there to Baltimore and Annapolis stopping at the Naval Academy. They will visit points of interest in Washington, and make a side trip to Gettysburg. They will visit the steel mills and the factory of the Westinghouse Electric Company will be visited at Pittsburgh on the return trip.

The Beacon Institute was founded to give unusual training to a selected group of boys between the ages of 12 and 16 to bring about the all around development of the boy. John Haen, former Scoutmaster of Dayton Boy Scouts is heading the movement which is backed by prominent Dayton business men. The boys will be under strict supervision on the trip, will follow a daily program and will be given instructive talks as well as entertainment.

SEEK PLEDGES FOR WIANT MEMORIAL

A preliminary survey of Methodist Churches in the Springfield district, including churches in Xenia and Greene County, for procuring pledges for the Wiant Memorial fund, is being conducted by the Rev. Bliss Wiant, and K. A. Wee, of New York City.

The memorial is to be erected at the Peking University, grounds at Peking, China, in honor of Dr. W. A. Wiant, of Springfield, late superintendent of the Springfield Methodist District.

The pledges received from the district churches have not been totaled, and the amount pledged is not known. The Rev. Mr. Wiant said that the majority of churches in the district were pledging the excess of their centenary funds.

If enough money is procured it is probable that the new memorial will take the form of a large dormitory for men who attend the university.

AIR FLIVVER IS WRECKED IN EAST

Mineola, N. Y., June 27—Harvey C. Mummert's "air flivver," which he has declared was smaller than the one brought to America by Georges Barbot, French aviator, was wrecked yesterday in a test flight on Long Island. A heavy wind preceding the storm that swept the island forced the machine to the ground. L. (Jap) Pearson, the pilot, received a severe cut across his face when, after a forty-foot drop, he fell forward against the machine.

NEW LIBERTY

Hundreds of friends attended the funeral of Clarence Smart at Aley Church Sunday afternoon. Rev. Roberts gave an impressive talk. Many beautiful flowers were given by friends and neighbors. This was the first death out of a family consisting of thirteen children.

Mr. and Mrs. Glasgow are the proud parents of a baby boy. The new house which Ollie and Karl Zink are building will soon be completed.

Hollandaise Sauce for Fresh Baked Cod—Divide one-half cup of butter into three pieces. Put one of these pieces into the top of your double boiler with the slightly beaten yolks of two eggs and one tablespoon of lemon juice; stir this mixture as it cooks, using a wire whisk, and when the butter is melted, add the second and then the third piece of butter. When the last piece is melted, stir in one-third cup of boiling water, cook one minute longer, and remove from fire to cool. Season with one-third teaspoon of salt and a pinch of cayenne pepper.

Eggs Tokoneke—This is a delicious way to serve eggs for either lunch or supper. Butter small, individual baking dishes and sprinkle bread crumbs in the bottom to the depth of one-half inch; on top of these crumbs sprinkle either grated or finely chopped mild cheese (only just enough to cover the crumbs); then break an egg into each little dish, not stirring this egg in. Now sprinkle more of the cheese on top of the egg, add a top layer of crumbs, dot with bits of butter, and pour in enough sweet milk to barely cover the contents of the dish. Slip the dish into a hot oven to bake till well cooked through—about ten minutes. Serve hot.

Noroton Filling for Layer Cake (also an icing). Mix together one cup of sugar, a pinch of salt and one heaping tablespoon of cornstarch, turn this mixture into a saucepan containing one cup of boiling water and let cook till thick, stirring constantly. Then add butter size of a walnut, the juice of one lemon, and two whole bananas finely sliced; stir vigorously so that the banana slices break up into small bits. Remove from fire, after cooking for a few minutes, and add at once the stiffly whipped whites of two eggs. Spread between two cake-layers and on top the cake.

Hot Cheese Sandwiches—Chip mild American cheese into the upper part of your double boiler and let steam over boiling water till melted. Pour it at once onto buttered slices of bread and press together to form a sandwich. Serve while the cheese is hot. Wholewheat bread makes a more nourishing sandwich than white bread. Here is another excellent kind:

Hot Egg Sandwich—Fry an egg and lay it, while hot, on a buttered slice of bread; lay thin slices of Bermuda onion (raw) on top of the egg and cover with another buttered slice of bread. Serve while the egg is hot.

THE MISFIT

By Jane Phelps

NATALIE COMMUNICATES WITH HORACE
Chapter XXXII

Natalie had decided to communicate with Horace. She had seen Craig once again at the same time and place. He told her Horace was searching for her, that he had heard it through Beverly Rainsford.

She would write him, telling him she did not wish to see or hear from him, that as far as she was concerned he was free. She was working, and should continue to work. She wanted nothing to him. Somehow she hated to think of the dignified Horace hunting for her, and she would change her route in going home from the office, and so avoid Craig Harper.

She found the letter hard to write. After tearing up several, she said:

"Horace—I feel you should hear from me, as I understand you have been searching for me. Please do not try to find me, as I shall not return. I am working, taking care of myself as I did when you met me. I am no longer a 'misfit,' as your mother called me. I have left you free to do as you will. I have even discarded your name, so you need have no fear of disgrace through me—what you and your mother consider disgrace.

"You need should have married me. Your mother, perhaps was right when she said 'one can't transplant a cabbage and grow a rose.' I am contented now, shall try to be happy. I was very bitter when I left, but now I only regret that I didn't leave sooner, before we said those hard, cruel things to each other. I shall try and forget those words and remember only your kindness.—Natalie."

Natalie gave a shrug of dissatisfaction as she finished the note. She had been inarticulate with Horace for so many weeks before she left that her thoughts would not form themselves into words. Yet she had said all that was necessary. She had told him not to search for her, that she should not return, which was what she set out to do. The rest was superfluous.

What she had said about a "misfit" and so forth, had not been intended as a complaint against Mrs. Crandell. She had written as she had because it seemed to explain things, and had she given it thought would have supposed that his mother had expressed herself to Horace as she had to Mrs. Baxter in the conversation she had overheard.

The letter arrived while Horace and his mother were at breakfast. Horace looked worn, worried. Eagerly he tore open the envelope and eagerly he began to read. His mother watched him closely. That the letter was from Natalie she was sure. He read it once, then again, this time frowning.

"What does Natalie mean, Mother?" She speaks of your allying to her as a 'misfit'?" Horace read about the two passages in which Natalie had referred to what Mrs. Crandell had said.

Mrs. Crandell's aristocratic lip curled slightly. She scored denial of anything she had said or done, so now admitted the conversation Natalie had overheard.

Horace sighed deeply. "Poor girl," he said, as he folded the letter and put it into his pocket, telling his mother nothing more of what Natalie had written.

"Eavesdroppers never hear any good of themselves," she said. "She must have been listening, spying."

"No, Mother, Natalie would never do that. She was singularly free of small vices. I am very sorry she overheard you say such things about her."

"Where is she?" Mrs. Crandell asked, unable to restrain her curiosity.

"She does not say, but I shall find her," Horace replied, as he rose from the table.

"You mean—you will urge her to come back?"

"If I find her, yes. And if she will, I shall try to make her happier. I'm afraid she wasn't very happy here with us, that she felt lonely."

Even his resentment at what his mother had called Natalie could not make Horace speak disrespectfully. But his voice was firm.

"I hope and pray he doesn't find her," Mrs. Crandell muttered when alone at least he is all mine now—my son. And Horace murmured as he rode down town:

"I hope and pray I may find her—Tomorrow—Craig's Perseverance Wins."

THIS MAN INTENDS TO KEEP IT IN THE HOUSE

"In May or June, 1923, I sent you and got four bottles which were worth many dollars to me. They enabled me to go to work again. I had lost 40 pounds, but these 4 bottles of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy for stomach trouble gained back all I had lost and I feel like a new man since. I shall keep it in the house all the time." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrh mucus from the intestinal tract and practically all stomach, liver and allays the inflammation which causes testicular ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince. Money refunded. Sayre & Hemphill, druggists everywhere. ad

Conciliation Between Factions

Boston, June 27.—With a meeting day between the two rival telephone unions holding out the only apparent hope of an early settlement of the strike, telephone service throughout any sections of New England was still at a standstill or badly disrupted.

In other sections the company had established nearly normal service. Massachusetts and Rhode Island were still the chief sufferers, while Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire suffered no serious hardship.

Today's meeting was called at the request of Miss Annie Molloy, president of Local 1-A, for the purpose, it is reported, of patching up differences existing between the union and telephone operators union, of which Miss Julia O'Connor is international president. Miss Molloy's organization is opposing the strike led by Miss O'Connor.

Washington, June 27.—The government today took a hand in the New England telephone strike when the department of labor ordered Anna Weinstock, a commissioner of conciliation, to Boston to attempt to bring about a settlement.

Miss Weinstock settled the New York clothing workers' strike and has been successful in many recent disputes involving women workers.

John Colpoys, another conciliator, will also be ordered to New England.

Springfield, Mass., June 27.—The New England Telephone Company today retained counsel and reports are in circulation that it plans to apply for injunctions restraining striking operators from picketing and their activities.

There were several minor clashes between strikers and loyal operators today. Former state guardsmen, now members of a auxiliary police force, were on duty.

Their presence has caused bitter feeling.

Only severe emergency calls are being answered.

GAS COMPANY ASKS
COMMISSION FOR 50
CENT SERVICE CHARGE

Xenia consumers of gas furnished by The Ohio Fuel Gas Company will pay 50 cents more a month for the product in the future, if an ordinance suggested at a special meeting of the city commission Tuesday afternoon is introduced and passed by the commission.

The proposition presented by J. F. Curry, Columbus, Assistant General Manager of the Ohio Fuel Gas Company, from the Pittsburgh office provides for a 50 cent service charge to be paid by consumers each month, in addition to the regular prevailing rate of 50 cents a thousand with ten per cent for payment in ten days.

It is said the proposition is being introduced by the company in 31 Ohio cities and villages and is aimed at the gas consumer who uses less than 1,000 feet of gas per month, and whose account it is claimed costs more to audit than the profit on the fuel, according to company officials. The new plan would replace the present minimum charge of 50c. The visiting official was introduced to the commissioners Tuesday by R. W. Irwin, Xenia manager of the Ohio Fuel Gas Company and he explained the operation of the ordinance. It is understood that the matter will be considered for the first time by the commission at Thursday night's meeting.

Treasury Department Dis-
claims Responsibilities
For Delays

New York, June 27.—Foreign ship owners whose vessels are bringing liquor into American territorial waters must pay the consequences resulting from their action, treasury department officials declared.

Collector Elting of the port of New York was informed by Assistant Secretary Moss, in charge of the customs division of the treasury, that the treasury could not and would not assume any responsibility for delays in sailing of vessels held up for the seizure of liquor stores. Numerous complaints had reached him, Elting reported, from foreign shipping companies that the liquor situation was upsetting their scheduled sailings, causing scores of cancellations of passage and otherwise demoralizing transatlantic traffic right at the height of the summer tourist movement.

Elting asked Moss what he should do about it. Moss replied that he was to do nothing but proceed in an orderly manner to carry out instructions to seize all liquors not exempt under the medicinal classifications and turn the seized liquors over to the prohibition agents for safe-keeping. Moss made it plain to the collector that the ship owners had brought their vessels into American waters with liquor aboard with full knowledge that it was in violation of the American dry laws and could blame no one but themselves for any loss or inconvenience their action may have brought on them.

Kegs and casks of beer aboard the French liner Paris, too bulky for convenient removal to the storage by the customs officials, were tapped and poured overboard. Following the seizure of the beverage supplies brought in under British customs seal by the Baltic and the Berengaria, the port officials went aboard the flagship of the French liner and took away the wine and beer in excess of medicinal supplies.

The Baltic and the Berengaria, the first ships inspected, were deprived of parts of their supplies, the seized liquors being taken to warehouses and receipts given the captains. Both big ships, however, are now on their return voyage, with what is regarded as a "reasonable amount" of wet goods aboard.

Eleven other liners, seven of which are in the harbor, were visited by the port collector's men as rapidly as possible and given the "Sahara treatment." Those in port include the Cedric, the Contoverdi, the Tuscania, the Province, the Caronia, the Suffern and the Scandinavian liner Frederick VII, which arrived with its entire stock marked "in seal."

HARDING SPEAKS ON TAXATION IN SALT LAKE CITY

Holds Out No Hope of
Revision in the Near Future

CUT IN EXPENDITURES

Chides State, County and Municipal Governments
For Extravagance

Salt Lake City, Utah, June 27.—President Harding appears to be getting his renomination pretty well pegged down on this western trip.

His attitude on the world court issue and his willingness to submit any reservations which the senate ir-reconcilables may propose has eliminated the possibility of any further trouble for the president in that direction. The president has gotten back to purely domestic questions and is forging along, building his platform as he goes and letting persons everywhere know just how he stands on important controversial subjects. Nobody, apparently, has any intention of getting in his way.

Senator Will King, Democrat, who was on the reception committee at Ogden, said that in his opinion the president's St. Louis speech has killed all hope the Democrats have had that the United States will join the world court as a preliminary entrance into the league of nations. He declared that the senate Democrats who believe in the Wilson league will make no further effort to have the court proposal ratified.

"The president has scrapped the whole business," Senator King said. "He has thrown the world court to the dogs. The Democrats are through. They can not do anything more, because the kind of court which the president now proposes would not be acceptable to any of the other nations in the court."

When the president reached Ogden he was met by a committee which included Senators Smoot and King, Governor Mabey and other officials. He left the train for a motor trip to Salt Lake, a distance of thirty miles over a scenic highway.

The president's speech at Salt Lake City was on taxation and expenditure. He chided state, county and municipal governments for alleged continued extravagances, pointing out that while the cost of federal government has been gradually falling since 1920, the cost of local government has been increasing. Figures supplied by the census bureau supported this conclusion.

President Harding held out no hope for general revision of taxes at the next session of congress. On the contrary, he supported Senator Smoot's opinion that all federal taxes, including the tax on personal incomes, must be left alone. He advised the people that instead of grumbling about high taxes, they should set about to reduce the cost communities and stop all extravagances, following the example which he asserted the federal government has set in this direction.

CHIROPRACTORS FINED.
Columbus, June 27.—Judge Perry of municipal court fined six local chiropractors $100 and costs on a charge of practicing medicine without a license. D. H. Gettelf would not pay his fine and was taken to jail. All have appealed their cases. Harriet Clemmens, one of more than a dozen chiropractors who on May 6 were sentenced to the county jail to serve out their fines of $100 and costs each, for refusing to comply with the state medical board's regulations, was released upon a writ of habeas corpus.

STEAMER DAMAGED BY STORM.

Cleveland, June 27.—The entire starboard upper deck of the steamer City of Buffalo was carried away by a tornado. Lookouts who saw the approach of a funnel shaped cloud barely had time to shout the warning before it arrived with a roar. Most of the 265 passengers were in their beds. Bedlam broke loose when the storm hit. The vessel limped into this port with passengers still wearing their life preservers.

New York, June 27.—Cooler weather prevailed here today following last evening's electrical storm, which took a toll of four lives, injured more than a score and caused $500,000 damage to property in New York and vicinity.

After two days during which the mercury hovered around the 90 mark, the temperature at 8 o'clock this morning was 68, with a cool breeze blowing.

Broadway was in mourning today. At the Lambs, Friars and Green Room clubs, plans were discussed for a public burial for Bert Savoy. (Everett L. "He robbed me of my money and jewelry," Miss Haskett cried as she tightly clutched the man's arm. Police were told by the woman that George Cope, 33, Kings Mills, O., had robbed her of a ring and a purse after she had been lured to a vacant house at Fort Mitchell, Ky. Cope was arrested and jailed. Cope is also known as Robert Hartley, Chillicothe, O., and admitted the robbery.

Demand for Goods, Large
—Labor of all Kinds
Finds Employment

Washington, June 27.—Because of a general decline in the prices of a large number of commodities, the purchasing power of the American dollar is now two cents more than it was a month ago, the Federal Reserve Board announced today in making public an optimistic review of general business conditions in the United States.

Continued heavy production of basic materials along with full employment and good wages for labor were cited as outstanding features in the favorable industrial situation. Buying strength of American people is now being exerted at maximum, despite the seasonal changes.

Production and shipment of goods by factories continue in heavy volume throughout the United States. Labor of all kinds is finding employment. Some industries have granted wage increases in the general demand for labor. Larger demand for goods has resulted in steady increase in the size of payrolls among some classes of industrial establishments. Wage advances were most general in the cotton, steel, meat packing and sugar refining industries.

The board's report showed there is a shortage of farm labor. In agriculture the condition of winter and spring wheat is less favorable than a year ago. The cotton crop is in slightly better condition, owing to more favorable growing conditions in Texas.

Heavy purchasing of goods is indicated by active distribution reported by manufacturers and by the heavy movement of merchandise and freight reported by the railroads.

Loadings of freight on railroads exceed all other records for this season of the year. Both retail and wholesale trade was in larger volume than last month. Wholesalers report larger sales of meat, hardware and shoes. Sales of clothing and dry goods decreased.

A feature of the general prosperity prevailing an increase of $38,000,000 in the volume of money in circulation. The increase is principally in gold and silver certificates. Bank loans in principal cities which have been increasing since early in the year, declined sharply last month.

Passengers are Not to

New York, June 27.—Technically "bone dry" but actually carrying 12,000 pints of wines and liquors, the French liner Paris sailed today. The 12,000 pints were passed by Dr. E. K. Sprague, head of the United States Public Health Service here as "medicinal supplies."

Eight thousand of the pints of assorted drinks were crew wine and will not find their way to passengers, the captain and purser assured port authorities.

If the passengers get a drink it will be on a signal order of the ship's doctor that they require it for their health's sake. Customs officers and prohibition agents yesterday poured 145 casks and 245 bottles of the Paris beer into the river. This was considered cheaper than hauling and storing it.

The French liners Suffern and Conto Verdi, the Cunarder Caronia and Tuscania of the Anchor line, were to be boarded by officers today and such liquors removed as Dr. Sprague directs.

Extreme Precautions Used
to Prevent Prisoner
From Escaping

Cleveland, O., June 27.—Immediate trial of John Leonard Whitfield alleged slayer of Patrolman Dennis Griffin, on an indictment charging first degree murder, was promised today by Prosecuting Attorney Edward Stanton.

Detroit, Mich., June 27.—Cleveland detectives were to leave today with John L. Whitfield, 40, arrested here last night for the murder of Dennis Griffin, Cleveland patrolman, on May 11.

With ten Detroit detectives, Charles O. Nevil, Lieutenant of Cleveland detectives, arrested Whitfield at his work, at the yards of the Ternes Coal and Lumber Company, where he was employed as a night barn foreman.

Extreme precautions were taken by the arresting officers to prevent Whitfield from duplicating his escape at Madison, Wisconsin, where he pushed his captors from him and disappeared behind a passing street car. The officers, heavily armed, surrounded the coal yards, cutting off Whitfield's chance of escape. As Whitfield left the barn a shotgun was thrust against his ribs and before he could offer resistance he was handcuffed.

At police headquarters, Whitfield freely admitted that he was with Griffin when he was shot, but declared that Griffin shot himself in a struggle.

Detective Griffin was killed while transferring Whitfield from the police station to the county jail in Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., June 27.—The capture in Detroit of John L. Whitfield, alleged slayer of Patrolman Dennis Griffin here, May 11, was the climax of a sensational six weeks man hunt for Whitfield all over North America.

After the shooting of Griffin in Whitfield's auto, as the pair was going to police station following the latter's arrest, Whitfield fled with his 14-year-old sweetheart, Marie Price toward Canada.

Griffin's body was found in a lonely wood near Cleveland buried in a shallow grave. Nearby were the charred remains of his cap.

Whitfield was captured at Madison, Wis. He made a spectacular escape from the police of that city. It is supposed he then went to Chicago and soon after to Detroit where he was captured after assuming the name of Sam Decario, he made no effort at disguise.

The Price girl was said to be with her mother at Fort Wayne, Ind. Whitfield's deserted wife said today she was sorry her husband had been captured. She asserted that if the police had done their duty the killing would never have occurred.

Mrs. Whitfield added: "Leonard was not a bad man," and that he had treated her well aside from the "Marie Price affair." She had forgiven him for that she said. Whitfield's original arrest was on the charge of stealing spark plugs. When Griffin went to his home, Whitfield submitted to arrest, but asked permission to tell his wife goodbye. He is said to have entered her room unaccompanied and obtained a revolver. He volunteered to drive Griffin to police station. A witness told the authorities he heard a shot in the automobile and saw the policeman sink down in the seat as the car sped away.

Cincinnati, June 27.—Car Stein, 23, Abbottsford, Mich., was shot and wounded fatally when attempting to evade arrest in the Big Four railroad yards. Harry Burbrink, railroad detective, said the youth jumped from a freight train and failed to heed an order to halt. He died later at a hospital.

OFFER COMMUNITY PROGRAM THURSDAY AT NEW PLAYGROUND

An elaborate program arranged for the Willow Tree Playground for Thursday evening under the direction of Earl Burger, general secretary of playgrounds for the Community Recreation Association, will mark a new step in the progress of that park, it is said.

The arousing of community spirit in the neighborhood has resulted in the arrangements for the special program. Under the direction of Miss Eleanor Kiernan, Willow Tree Supervisor, the children of the neighborhood will engage in a folk dance.

Old people of the neighborhood will take part in a community sing, and have prepared a program that includes such novelties as an old fiddlers' contest, and the introduction of the Tar House Quartet from the Hooven and Allison Company besides other novel features. The Tar House quartet is composed of colored employees of the mills who have been practicing together for some time and are promising fine colored melody.

Music will be furnished by Albert Jones' Spring High Orchestra and a large crowd is expected to attend to foster the community spirit being exhibited there.

A community sing and other features will mark the entertainment at the Orient Hill Playground Friday night. It is announced by the Community Recreation Association.

A series of novel features has been planned, including a folk dance by children of the neighborhood under the direction of Miss Kathryn Hollen-camp, Orient Hill Supervisor. A community sing will also mark the evening and there will be other entertainment.

Recreation Association officials believe the presence of adults will give them a chance to evidence the influence of the playground on children.

DEMPSEY CONFIDENT

Great Falls, Mont., June 27.—"I've had a harder time getting into condition than I expected," said Jack Dempsey today. "I laid off too long. I'm all right now, however."

Then the heavyweight champion began asking questions, which indicated he is looking beyond the Tom Gibbons fight. He seemed particularly interested in the coming meeting between Luis Angel Firpo and Jess Willard. This interest and the fact that Jack Kearns plans a hurried trip to New York immediately after the fight at Shelby to sign the winner for a Labor day bout shows how seriously the champion and his manager regard the affair with Gibbons.

Dempsey now probably weighs in the neighborhood of 190 pounds. The talk that he will go into the ring weighing under 190 pounds is as foolish as the talk that Gibbons will build up to 180 pounds.

E. L. Richards, prop. barber shop, 514 W. Second St., Xenia, says: "A short time ago I began using Doan's Kidney Pills to relieve me of the terrible misery in my back. My back was sore and ached constantly and there seemed to be a heavy throbbing through it. Mornings my back and shoulders were so lame and stiff I could hardly get out of bed. When I stooped over I had sharp pains through my back. My kidneys were irregular in action and at night I had to get up several times to pass the kidney secretions, which were scalding and highly colored. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended so I got some. Several boxes relieved me of those sharp pains in my back and my kidneys became normal."

PUBLIC LINKS GOLF PLAYERS WILL END QUALIFYING ROUNDS

Washington, June 27.—Play in the last half of the 36 hole qualifying round for the public links golf championship of America, which was suspended last night because of darkness, was resumed over the East Potomac park course today.

Twenty one entrants had to finish the 36 hole required for qualification when play began this morning.

Raymond McAuliffe, of Buffalo, western New York state champion, with an aggregate score of 153 for the 36 holes, topped the field of 137 starters for medalist honors when play in the elimination round opened.

He was closely pressed by Gordon Haw, Seattle, with 155, Frank Delap, Portland; I. L. Thoren, New York, and George Voight, Washington, all with 157, were for third.

Of the 21 who were prevented by darkness from completing the round, seven stand an excellent chance of tying or passing the leader. This was particularly true of John Dawson, whose 73 for the first 18, broke the course record by two strokes. The windy city star had 109 for 27

holes and was only 30 strokes for the six holes on the final nine. He needed to shoot only 12 on the last three, all considered easy holes, to win the medalist award. Henry Ducker, Kansas City, and Joseph Murphy, Buffalo, also were within easy halting distance of the leader, McAuliffe.

Styles BY LENORE

Sudden showers shall have no terrors for the newest parasol, for now it is quite the thing to have it rainproof. But do not mistake it for the rainproof summer umbrella as you know it—almost as large as an ordinary umbrella as a rule, and plain, and usually of purple, or green or dark red. Now when you select a birthday gift for your maiden aunt, she will prefer the newer kind—which is a rainproof but a regulation parasol that may be had in figured silks, combined with plain silk and really quite conservative. Broad stripes of floral designs are also used in some of these rainproof parasols.

One of the novelties of the season are the parasols of Persian cotton prints made to match the printed squares which are sold in yard-and-a-half lengths for blouses.

A pretty white silk parasol has black chenille motifs. And shirring—illustrated in the other parasol shown in the cut—is a favored device in the plain silk parasols which many women prefer.

MUNICIPAL DEBT IN CITY OF XENIA $8.99 PER CAPITA

Every man, woman and child in the city of Xenia is burdened under a municipal debt amounting to $8.99, per capita.

This according to the semi-annual financial report of City Auditor T. H. Zell. The figures are taken from the report of indebtedness sent to Columbus by Mr. Zell, as of July 1, 1923.

In spite of the fact that the entire city as a whole owes $776,457.80, the actual general municipal debt not taken care of by sinking fund, assessments or profits, is only $89,957.80, the figures show. Officials believe these figures are especially good.

The utility debt, represented here only in the municipal water works, is not considered a general debt of the city. This debt has been cut from the original $383,000 to $344,600, where it stands at present. As the debt is being paid off by the profits on the sale of water, this is not considered actually a city debt. When the debt is paid off, water rates will be cut so that the department will just pay its own expenses. The general debt is now down to $237,700, which represents the actual city debt. Against this amount the sinking fund trustees have $147,742.20 leaving only $89,957.80 as an actual municipal debt uncared for. Computing on the basis of an estimated population of 10,000, this shows a per capita debt of $8.99. Xenia is slightly larger than that. The per capita debt is therefore slightly less.

The special assessment debt is not counted as an actual municipal debt, because it is a burden of the individual rather than the city. The special assessment debt is $32,500 now, as represented in Xenia's many paved streets and extensive sewage system. This debt will be paid off by the annual assessments against property owners.

Xenia is fortunate in having an active board of sinking fund trustees, according to City Auditor Zell. State examiners here recently declared the sinking fund board in many cities is inactive and may have made no provision to take care of their general debt. They are being forced into activity by the state department as quickly as possible.

A bond book kept by City Auditor Zell shows that Xenia, through the sinking fund board, owns many bonds of other cities, townships, counties, village and school districts all over Ohio. They are being held at interest rates running from four to six per cent and represent sound, sure and remunerative investments. The interest on these bonds helps to amortize Xenia's own indebtedness as the money in the sinking fund increases.

Counting the money in the sinking fund as good as paid, leaves $89,957.80 general debt, $341,000 utility debt and $342,500 assessment debt, or a total of $776,457.80 in obligations. Considering that the utility debt is being paid off entirely by water sales and the assessment debt by the property owners themselves, Xenia City is unusually well off, city officials say.

FREE CLINIC FOR CHILDREN OF COUNTY TO BE HELD IN XENIA THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

Owing to the lack of floor space and the warm weather, the tonsillectomy clinic, to be conducted under the auspices of the Greene County Chapter of the Red Cross, at the American Legion rooms, will be held on Thursday and Friday mornings. Fifteen children will be operated on Thursday morning, the overflow to be taken care of by the doctors and nurses Friday.

The office of the Legion rooms, which have been donated by the post for the clinic, will be converted into the operating room, the dining room to hold the cots for the patients, following the operations. The club room will be used as a waiting room.

Local and county physicians and surgeons have been generous in offering their services gratis, as well as the nurses. A committee of women will assist in arranging the details of the rooms, in preparation for the work. The committee will consist of Mrs. J. W. Stevens, Mrs. Ernest Schmidt, and Mrs. J. H. Whitmer, who will make the rooms ready for the patients.

Another committee from the county will consist of Mrs. William Marshall of Cedarville; Mrs. C. N. Smith, New Jasper; Miss Mildred Smith, Yellow Springs; and Miss Beatrice Shepley, Ross Township. Other local women will also be present during the clinic.

Out-of-town physicians who will aid with this clinic will be Dr. R. L. Haines, Paintersville; Drs. A. N. Vandemon and W. M. Hartinger, Spring Valley and Dr. L. L. Taylor, Yellow Springs.

Reservations have been made for patients from Fairfield, Yellow Springs, Goes Station, Cedarville, Jamestown, New Jasper, Spring Valley, Ross Township, Beavercreek Township, Casarscreek Township and Xenia.

The first of the Red Cross tonsillectomy clinics was held last October when 31 patients were operated on in two days. The Red Cross has the cooperation of the members of the Greene County Medical Board and other medical professionals in the city, at that time. The clinic was the result of the examination of 1,301 children in the county, by Miss Helen Evers, Red Cross nurse during 1922.

"Give me 80 miles of gas"

If gas could be bought on a mile-per-gallon basis, how differently the motorist would select his fuel. "Give me 80 miles of gas." Sounds funny but that's practically what it amounts to. You pay so much for so much gas and expect a certain mileage in return.

If you will measure the mileage cost per gallon on Columbus Gasoline you'll become a steady Columbus customer. Thousands of motorists use only pure Columbus Gasoline. Try it for more mileage, better pickup, more power, smoother running.

FATE OF DEMPSEY

GIBBONS BATTLE IS UNKNOWN QUANTITY

Great Falls, Mont., June 27.—The fate of the Dempsey-Gibbons battle lies in the hands of Jack Kearns. And Kearns is in the mood to act as his executioner.

Unless Kearns relents—unless the manager of the world's champ is willing to send his man into conflict with Tom Gibbons, for a gross $210,000, then it's 50 to 15, the fight must be called off. For it seems almost humanly impossible for the promoters to sell enough tickets between now and July 4 to raise nearly $200,000 in cash which will be needed by that date.

The situation is desperate. If the fight was a certainty, then the public might step in and buy tickets to the tune of $200,000 by that date. But affairs are so badly messed that ticket sales have almost ceased. No one wants to invest $50 in a fight ticket and not merely be deprived of

BILLY'S UNCLE—Unk Still Looks "Over Twenty-One"

BOYS CONDUCTED ON AUTO TOUR OF INTERESTING POINTS

H. E. Schmidt Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schmidt of West Third Street, and Philip Santmyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Santmyer of West Third Street, are among a party of boys enjoying a personally conducted auto tour to the East under the auspices of the Beacon Institute.

The boys left Monday by auto truck from Dayton carrying camp equipment which they pitch nightly along the way. They will visit Cleveland, traveling along the lake shore to Buffalo and Niagara Falls. After visiting both the American and Canadian sides, they go to Rochester to visit the Eastman Kodak factory and from there to Syracuse to visit the Franklin Motor Company's factory.

From Syracuse the party goes to Albany and from there to Boston, making excursions out of that city. They will visit Harvard College at Cambridge, visit Duxbury, the home of Miles Standish and Plymouth where the Pilgrims landed. They will enjoy sea bathing at Revere Beach and inspect modern ships at Charleston Neck, N. Y. They will visit New London, Connecticut and Yale College and the Winchester Arms factory at New Haven.

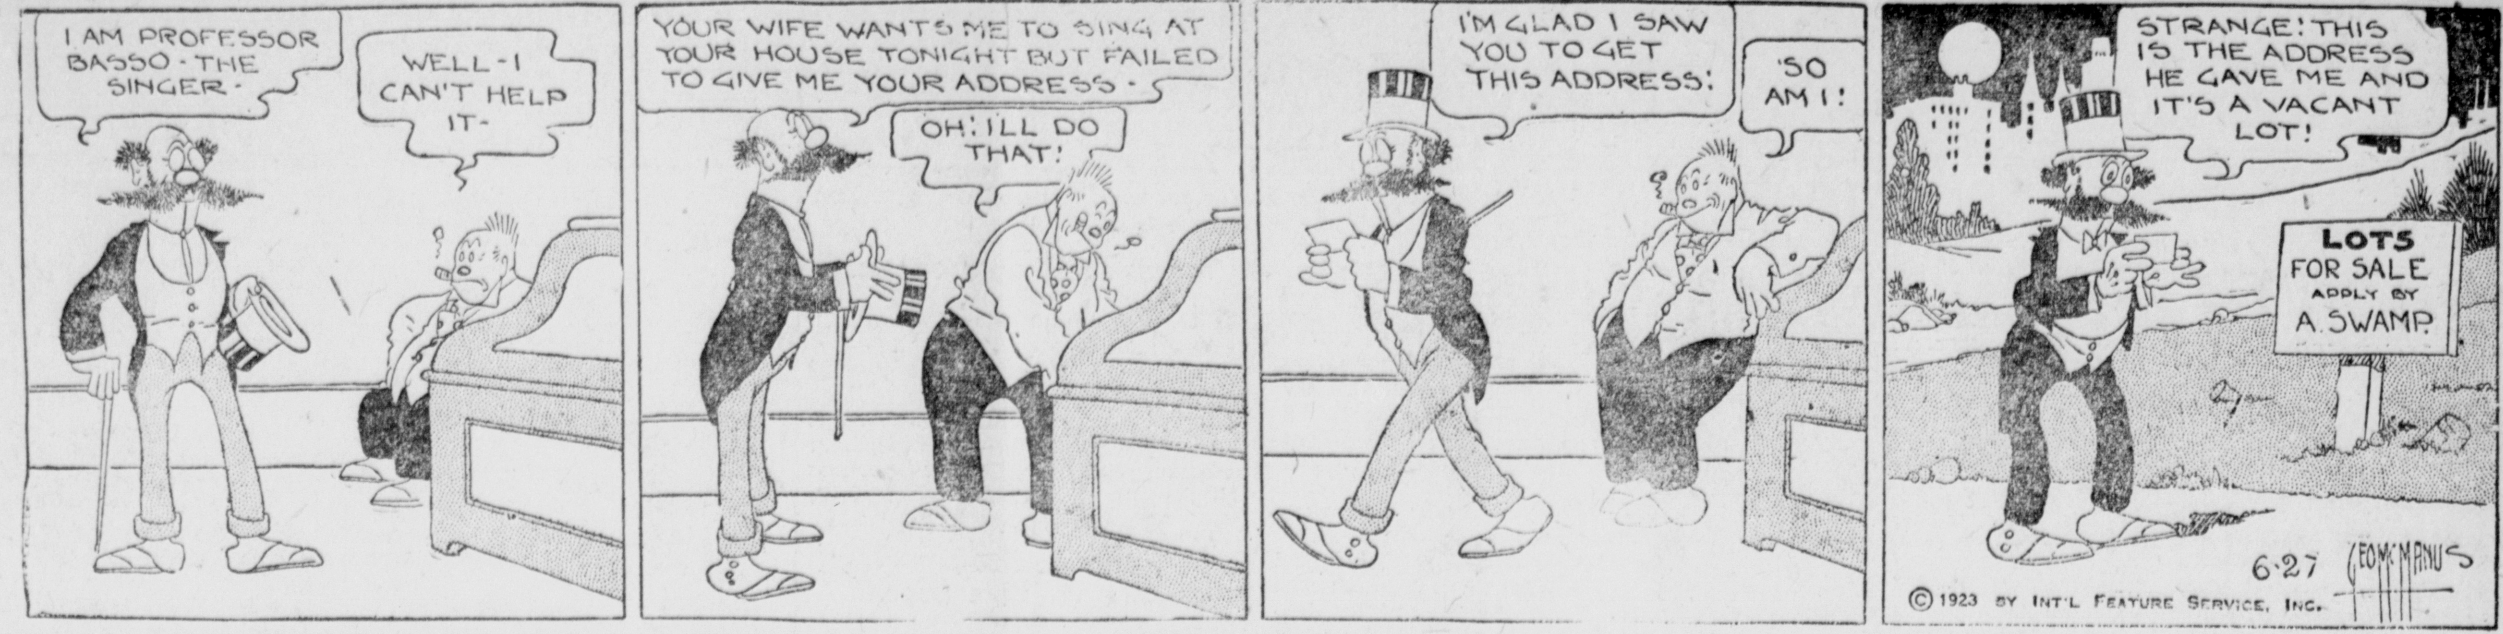

From Boston the party will motor to West Point, visit Sing Sing prison and then see the sights of New York City. From New York the party goes to Orange, N. J., stopping at the Edison Laboratories, thence to Trenton to see the Trenton Potteries and to Princeton University. They will camp at Camden and visit Philadelphia and Valley Forge and will go from there to Baltimore and Annapolis stopping at the Naval Academy. They will visit points of interest in Washington, and make a side trip to Gettysburg. The steel mills and the factory of the Westinghouse Electric Company will be visited at Pittsburgh on the return trip.

The Beacon Institute was founded to give unusual training to a select group of boys between the ages of 12 and 16 to bring about the all around development of the boy. John Haein, former Scoutmaster of Dayton, Boy Scouts is heading the movement which is backed by prominent Dayton business men. The boys will be under strict supervision on the trip, will follow a daily program and will be given instructive talks as well as entertainment.

SEEK PLEDGES FOR WIAW MEMORIAL

A preliminary survey of Methodist Churches in the Springfield district, including churches in Xenia and Greene County, for procuring pledges for the WiaW Memorial fund, is being conducted by the Rev. Bliss Wiant, and K. A. Wee, of New York City. The memorial is to be erected at the Peking University, grounds at Peking, China, in honor of Dr. W. A. Wiant, of Springfield, late superintendent of the Springfield Methodist District.

BRINGING UP FATHER

The pledges received from the district churches have not been totaled, and the amount pledged is not known. The Rev. Mr. Wiant said that the majority of churches in the district were pledging the excess of their centenary funds.

If enough money is procured it is probable that the new memorial will take the form of a large dormitory for men who attend the university.

AIR FLIWER IS WRECKED IN EAST

Mineola, N. Y., June 27—Harvey C. Mummett's "air flivver," which he has declared was smaller than the one brought to America by Georges Barbot, French aviator, was wrecked yesterday in a test flight on Long Island. A heavy wind preceding the storm that swept the island forced the machine to the ground. L. (Jap) Pearson, the pilot, received a severe cut across his face when, after a forty-foot drop, he fell forward against the machine.

NEW LIBERTY

Hundreds of friends attended the funeral of Clarence Smart at Aley Church Sunday afternoon. Rev. Roberts gave an impressive talk. Many beautiful flowers were given by friends and neighbors. This was the first death out of a family consisting of thirteen children.

Mr. and Mrs. Glasgow are the proud parents of a baby boy. The new house which Ollie and Karl Zink are building will soon be completed.

Hollandaise Sauce for Fresh Baked Cod—Divide one-half cup of butter into three pieces. Put one of these pieces into the top of your double boiler with the slightly beaten yolks of two eggs and one tablespoon of lemon juice; stir this mixture as it cooks, using a wire whisk, and when the butter is melted, add the second and then the third piece of butter. When the last piece is melted, stir in one-third cup of boiling water, cook one minute longer, and remove from fire to cool. Season with one-third teaspoon of salt and a pinch of cayenne pepper.

Eggs Tokoneke—This is a delicious way to serve eggs for either lunch or supper. Butter small, individual baking dishes and sprinkle bread crumbs in the bottom to the depth of one-half inch; on top of these crumbs sprinkle either grated or finely chopped mild cheese (only just enough to cover the crumbs);

then break an egg into each little dish, not stirring this egg in. Now sprinkle more of the cheese on top of the egg, add a top layer of crumbs, dot with bits of butter, and pour in enough sweet milk to barely cover the contents of the dish. Slip the dish into a hot oven to bake till well cooked through—about ten minutes. Serve hot.

Norton Filling for Layer Cake (also an icing). Mix together one cup of sugar, a pinch of salt and one heaping tablespoon of cornstarch, turn this mixture into a saucepan containing one cup of boiling water and let cook till thick, stirring constantly. Then add butter size of a walnut, the juice of one lemon, and two whole bananas finely sliced; stir vigorously so that the banana slices break up into small bits. Remove from fire, after cooking for a few minutes, and add at once the stiffly whipped whites of two eggs. Spread between two cake-layers and on top the cake.

Hot Cheese Sandwiches—Chip mild American cheese into the upper part of your double boiler and let steam over boiling water till melted. Pour it at once onto buttered slices of bread and press together to form a sandwich. Serve while the cheese is hot. Wholewheat bread makes a more nourishing sandwich than white bread. Here is another excellent kind:

Hot Egg Sandwich—Fry an egg and lay it, while hot, on a buttered slice of bread; lay thin slices of Bermuda onion (raw) on top of the egg and cover with another buttered slice of bread. Serve while the egg is hot.

THE MISFIT By Jane Phelps

NATALIE COMMUNICATES WITH HORACE Chapter XXXII

Natalie had decided to communicate with Horace. She had seen Craig once again at the same time and place. He told her Horace was searching for her, that he had heard it through Beverly Rainsford.

She would write him, telling him she did not wish to see or hear from him, that as far as she was concerned he was free. She was working, and should continue to work. She wanted nothing to him. Somehow she hated to think of the dignified Horace hunting for her, and she would change her route in going home from the office, and so avoid Craig Harper.

She found the letter hard to write. After tearing up several, she said:

"Horace—I feel you should hear from me, as I understand you have been searching for me. Please do not try to find me, as I shall not return. I am working, taking care of myself as I did when you met me. I am no longer a 'misfit,' as your mother called me. I have left you free to do as you will. I have even discarded your name, so you need have no fear of disgrace through me—what you and your mother consider disgrace.

"You never should have married me. Your mother, perhaps was right when she said 'one can't transplant a cabbage and grow a rose.' I am contented now, shall try to be happy. I was very bitter when I left, but now I only regret that I didn't leave sooner, before we said those hard, cruel things to each other. I shall try and forget those words and remember only your kindness.—Natalie."

Natalie gave a shrug of dissatisfaction as she finished the note. She had been inarticulate with Horace for so many weeks before she left that her thoughts would not form themselves into words. Yet she had said all that was necessary. She had told him not to search for her, that she should not return, which was what she set out to do. The rest was superfluous.

What she had said about a "misfit" and so forth, had not been intended as a complaint against Mrs. Crandell. She had written as she had because it seemed to explain things, and had she given it thought would have supposed that his mother would have expressed herself to Horace as she had to Mrs. Baxter in the conversation she had overheard.

The letter arrived while Horace and his mother were at breakfast. Horace looked worn, worried. Eagerly he tore open the envelope and eagerly he began to read. His mother watched him closely. That the letter was from Natalie she was sure. He read it once, then again, this time frowning.

"What does Natalie mean, Mother? She speaks of your alluding to her as a 'misfit'?" Horace read aloud the two passages in which Natalie had referred to what Mrs. Crandell had said.

Mrs. Crandell's aristocratic lip curled slightly. She scored denial of anything she had said or done, so now admitted the conversation Natalie had overheard.

Horace sighed deeply.

"Poor girl," he said, as he folded the letter and put it into his pocket, telling his mother nothing more of what Natalie had written.

"Eavesdroppers never hear any good of themselves," she said. "She must have been listening, spying." "No, Mother, Natalie would never do that. She was singularly free of small vices. I am very sorry she overheard you say such things about her." "Where is she?" Mrs. Crandell asked, unable to restrain her curiosity. "She does not say, but I shall find her," Horace replied, as he rose from the table.

"You mean—you will urge her to come back?"

"If I find her, yes. And if she will, I shall try to make her happier. I'm afraid she wasn't very happy here with us, that she felt lonely."

Even his resentment at what his mother had called Natalie could not make Horace speak disrespectfully. But his voice was firm.

By GEORGE McMANUS

"I hope and pray he doesn't find her. Mrs. Crandell muttered when alone at least he is all mine now—my son. And Horace murmured as he rode down town:

"I hope and pray I may find her—Tomorrow—Craig's Perseverance Wins"
